What is Kanorau Digital?

Kanorau Digital is a foundation digital skills short course designed to help individuals who find the digital world a bit (or a lot) challenging. During this digital skills course, participants will gain the skills to get online safely and the know-how to navigate devices, websites and digital tools with more confidence.

Whether you are looking to apply for jobs online, communicate with whānau across the world, or learn how to apply for services online, there is something for everyone. The short course is fees free and is backed by a Learning Management System to help participants continue their learning online with the wide range of content available.

Kanorau Digital is targeted at Māori and Pasifika communities in Aotearoa. However, TWoA values inclusivity, so the course is open to all New Zealander's wanting to learn digital skills.

What does 'Kanorau' mean?

Kano means seed. Rau is many. Kanorau means to be diverse, varied, multicoloured.

In this short course, we'll plant the seeds to help whānau and participants get the confidence to use digital devices and the internet as a tool to connect with our diverse world.

What's in the course?

- Introductions, emails, online calendars, sharing documents online and joining a group video call.
- Setting up online folders, using maps, saving files and photos.
- Using the internet to solve problems, searching online, finding useful websites.
- The different ways that 'life' can be carried out online. Being safe and keeping your important info secure when dealing with banking, shopping and other online business.

Community Organisation Key Contact:

We expect participating community organisations to appoint a key contact to deal with your member or client registration enquiries and help organise the course for your organisation. The recruitment fee is being paid for recruitment services to community organisations who are connected to our target audience, and not to incentivise individual participation.
